

GIC@CeBIT 2016 – European Cyber Security Conference

14 March 2016

This European Cyber Security Conference will provide a platform for a comprehensive inventory taking and for initiating a sustainable discussion of this mission-critical topic. It will take a management-oriented focus rather than a technical one. Especially the aspects of robustness, safety and security in networked processes, products and services will be covered. In connection with Industry 4.0/Internet of things and mission-critical infrastructures Cyber Security Strategies are particularly important.

Cyber Security has been identified as a top priority and crucial topic within digitization processes, especially by executives who are in charge and liable of protecting the intellectual property of their organizations. As a result, a variety of institutions and initiatives have been established and are committed to enable an optimal level of safety, security and privacy.

The European Cyber Security Conference will take place at CeBIT 2016

on 14 March 2016

and will follow the motto "End of Naivety | End-to-end-Security is Executive's Top Priority".

Agenda

We will start approaching this challenging topic by presenting a variety of keynotes and impulse speeches. During lunch break there will be plenty of opportunities for more detailed discussions and networking. You will then have the opportunity to intensify your preferred topic by choosing one of our five parallel breakout sessions. The results of the breakout sessions will be summarized and presented in the plenum. The variety of aspects will then be subject within the panel discussion.

Registration

We are very much looking forward to your participation.

With best regards
